

Traces of Italians in Scotland

Exploring 150 years of migration, highlighting the inter-connectivity of memory, space & place by collecting, displaying & reframing archival materials.

Italian Fascism & WW2

New audio recordings by Scots-Italians, created to accompany the gathered material relating to the two World Wars.

The Bench on the Road

Archival material transformed into a theatre play (2016) describing the key role of the Scots-Italian women in the community.

Eduardo Paolozzi (1924–2005)

One of Britain's leading artists, born in Edinburgh into an Italian family. Poems, short stories and new artwork in response to Paolozzi – almost unknown in Italy.
Talks, Publications & Exhibitions

WWI Diary of a Scots-Italian soldier

Displaying the contents of the diary, including battlefield maps, photographs and translation.
Podcast series involving the son of the diary writer.

CULTURAL TRANSLATION

REPLAY

REFRAME

VISUAL HISTORY

REPEAT

PAST & PRESENT

DISPLAY

COLLECTIVE MEMORY

TRANSNATIONAL ARCHIVE

STORIES

IDENTITY

BELONGING

MONTAGE

Tour of Scotland (1908) Mapping the Italian Community

Recreating the same tour through Scotland, with the aim of recording what remains of the Italian community.
Podcasts & videos

Italian Community in Scotland (1930)

New interactive online map including audio recordings, and photos of the community, reflecting and remembering their past.

A 4000km journey through post-war Europe from Edinburgh to Italy on a bicycle tandem (1950)

Online display of the diary of the cyclists describing their experience (hostels, fellow travellers and scenery). Audio reading in English & Italian, Animation